Items to bring:

- A variety of lots of smelly, delicious food for your dog, something he or she does not usually get but loves, it could be meat balls, bacon, liverwurst, cooked chicken or beef liver, Plato salmon treats, etc. If your dog is more toy motivated then food motivated, bring the favorite toy.
- Crate and a cover for the crate
- Buckle collar or non-restrictive harness and 6 ft or longer leash, preferably 15 ft

In order for Karen to plan our day, she would like an idea of the number of person-dog teams that will attend along with each team's level of experience with Nose Work. You will be either:

- |  |                    |
|--|--------------------|
| a. beginner (no experience)                        | e. NW1 (odor only) |
| b. Intermediate (searching for food)               | f. NW2             |
| c. Advanced (searching for birch paired with food) | g. NW3             |
| d. passed ORT                                      |                    |

Please send info to Karen Davito at karavid11@gmail.com

During nose work training, it is imperative that while one dog is searching, all other dogs in the building are kept in a covered crate out of sight of the working dog. Dogs that can't settle in a crate should be moved to your car to eliminate additional distractions. So please come prepared with a crate and crate covering.
